

Withdrawal and Transfer Name Policy

If you have a place in the Stampede but are now unable to run; unwell, have work commitments; have injured yourself; health concerns; etc, these are the options available:

Refunds:

The Studland Stampede is operated as a non-refundable event. This is due to the costs incurred from the moment we commit to organising and planning the event. We are therefore unable to offer any cash refunds, but it may be possible to transfer your entry, as detailed below.

Transfer your place to the following year's event:

If you notify us by email before the 1st August (the same year of the event) you will be emailed a transfer code to enable you to take part in the following year's event – You will still need to fill in an entry form the following year as normal and post it with your transfer code written clearly at the top of your entry form. If you do not take up your place the following year, you will not be able to carry it over again.

Transferring your place to another runner:

If you wish to give your Stampede place to a friend, you must notify us by email. The new runner must then fill in a transfer entry form (that will be emailed over to you) and post it as soon as possible. Changes before 1st August can be made free of charge but changes after this date will incur a £5 administration fee, which will need to be paid by cheque and posted with the transfer entry form. Any transfers MUST be received before the 5th October (the same year of the event). We will NOT be allowing changes on race day.

Running under someone else's number can cause considerable confusion and could be dangerous should an emergency situation arise on race day. Therefore it is imperative that runners act responsibly and do not take the position of another runner without notifying us of the change. Running under another runner's number may also cause issues when determining who has won age category prizes – therefore if you are found to be running under someone else's number (because you have not notified us to transfer it over into your name) you will not be entitled to any prize.
